On Oct. 2, students from Avoca West elementary school in Glenview eagerly gathered in the school's library to receive recognition from the Winnetka-Northfield Library for their participation in the summer reading program.

Avoca West students claimed the title in the inaugural year, with 45 students completing the program boasting a total of approximately 49,950 minutes of reading. Avoca students will be housing a creatively designed trophy, complete with lights and a fidget spinner, which was generated from the library's 3-D printer. At the trophy presentation, students had the opportunity to share their favorite book titles with the librarians and celebrate their victory.

Director of Youth Services for the Winnetka-Northfield Library, Sheila Cody, hopes that this program will strengthen partnerships between the Winnetka-Northfield library district and the local schools.
